Balance and Fairness in the Rates Employers Pay

Following a comprehensive review of our rate model in 2014, the WCB has begun phasing in changes to the way we calculate employer premiums. Some of these changes have already been made while others will be phased in until 2020.

One of the first adjustments in place for 2016 is the first phase of the narrowing of risk category ranges. This restricts how much your premium can move above or below the category average. For all employers, the top of the boundary has been reduced from 200 per cent to 120 per cent. For small and medium employers, the lower boundary has risen from 40 to 30 per cent. The range for small and medium employers will narrow even further in 2017 as the lower boundary rises to 20 per cent.

By raising the lower boundary, those who are at or near the bottom of the range will see slightly higher premiums. The benefit, however, is that it will lead to enhanced shared liability, as well as protection against the potential of a single claim drastically driving up premiums.

“Our strong financial stewardship has contributed to a healthy reserve surplus, which allows us to cushion the impact on those employers by lowering the average assessment rate,” says Winston Maharaj, WCB President and CEO.

The other transition in place this year is reducing how quickly rates can rise and fall in any given year. They are now capped at a maximum of 15 per cent upwards or downwards. This will reduce volatility by regulating how much rates are allowed to go up or down in one year and also protect against large rate increases.

“The new rate model is designed to be more responsive to the differences among small, medium and large employers,” says Maharaj. “Ultimately, the most effective ways for Manitoba employers to reduce their WCB costs is by improving health and safety at their workplaces, and strengthening their return to work programs.”

Further transitional changes will be phased in over the coming years until the new assessment rate model is fully implemented by 2020. We’ll continue to provide you with ongoing updates on these changes as they evolve.

For more information, visit wcb.mb.ca and click on Employers, or contact Assessment Services at 204-954-4505 or toll free at 1-855-954-4321, extension 4505.

Your beautiful new car deserves extra protection!

After two years, some new cars have lost nearly half their value.

New Car Protection helps take the sting out of depreciation.

How does New Car Protection work?

If your car is a write-off, we pay its purchase price plus an allowance for inflation. No depreciation applies. And it's not just for brand new cars. Late-model used cars also qualify.

If you've bought a new vehicle, or even if you're thinking of buying one, talk to your Autopac agent for details.

Your beautiful new car deserves extra protection!

After two years, some new cars have lost nearly half their value.

New Car Protection helps take the sting out of depreciation.

How does New Car Protection work?

If your car is a write-off, we pay its purchase price plus an allowance for inflation. No depreciation applies. And it's not just for brand new cars. Late-model used cars also qualify.

If you've bought a new vehicle, or even if you're thinking of buying one, talk to your Autopac agent for details.
